

This is the agreement that you will be expected to sign before having the installation performed. We will stand by our work in that we will do our best to get your system running smoothly and will be happy to provide further advice and assistance to Free Software users through Linux User Group (LUG) help sessions and activities, but if you don't consider our best to be "good enough" then you're simply out of luck ---you don't get to sue us for damages.

InstallFest Waiver and Disclaimer

1. I acknowledge that I am participating in this "Installfest" entirely at my own risk.
2. I assume responsibility for the integrity of the data on my computer system, have backed up all important data, and will hold the volunteer helpers AND their sponsors blameless for any damage to my computer system, to my data, or any other damages or liability that may result through my participation in this event.
3. I also agree to take responsibility for all items of possession.
4. I further agree to be responsible for all licensing requirements that may apply to the software I will receive.
5. Every reasonable effort will be made to ensure that my system operates correctly before and after the installation, but I recognise that because the software installed at this event is licensed free of charge, the copyright holder(s) and volunteer helpers and/or other parties provide this material "as is" without warranty of any kind, either expressed or implied, including, but not limited to, the implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose. The entire risk as to the quality and performance of this software, and the accuracy of its associated documentation, is with me.
6. I also take responsibility of any equipment I bring and will not hold the sponsors responsible of any theft or damage to my equipment whilst on the premises.
7. Should this software or its associated documentation prove defective, I assume the cost of all necessary servicing, repair, or correction.
